07/03/12 Alastair MacBeath won the exclusive annual Kingston International backgammon tournament held on 22-23. June in Jamaica. The prestigious event was sponsored mainly by Sterling Asset Managements and CPJ (Caribbean Producers Jamaica). It was a close and tight race in both the semi-finals and finals, but it was McBeath, who previously won the Strawberry Hill tournaments in 2007 and 2009, who pocketed a whopping $300,000. The most extravagant backgammon kit in the world 13.06.12 Some of you may have come across publications about very expensive backgammon kits. Until recently, the most expensive set on the market was produced by Carbofan, which cost $ 25,260. Fantasy sound? Well, the average person is willing to pay exorbitant prices when it comes to art. For example, Charles Hollander's collection includes a custom-made backgammon kit designed by artist Bernard McQueen and crafted with over 60,000 diamonds and plenty of gold. However, trade goods are expected to be cheaper. Geoffrey Parker's respected company managed to surpass the imposing figure of Carbofan and push the 5-digit number to 6-digit. A new handmade gold and diamond backgammon set on sale at a low price of $387,890! Anyone interested? The April Marathon is over - and there is a winner 07/05/12 Play65 led a long and challenging month of consecutive backgammon tournaments with increasing prizes. It was a unique and very enjoyable backgammon race to the finish of the final tournament held last Wednesday, May 2, 2012 with a starting prize pool of $10,000. Daniel Kotrc (blackwidow88) from Germany defeated dozens of competitors and won the marathon adding $2,800 to his account. go Daniel!
