NÁ É o Á more possible to make a new É reivindicac the cr said tax, because most claimants  expected to claim cr Universal said. Applicants for existing tax credits may remain on this benefit by time. There are two types of fiscal criterion payments: Said work tax (WTC) - a payment tested by people at work under said criteria. Tax criterion (CTC) - a payment tested for people with children. The government is in the process of substitution of tax criteria with the new universal criterion. It is no longer possible to make a new claim of tax criteria, as most of the claimants are expected to claim universal criterion. Applicants for existing tax credits may remain on this benefit by time. If you already are in cr said fiscal and partner, you Tamba © m can have payments cr said tax work added to your prmio of cr said fiscal tax. This is seen as a review of an existing fiscal criterion claim, rather than a new claim that triggers a universal criterion claim. However, at some point in the future, all existing tax criteria applicants will be moved to universal criterion. The child telling son is paid to families that have at least a child dependent. This means a child with less than 16 years or 16 to 19 years who is in certain types of education or training. The value you receive depends on your family circumstances and your annual income. You receive extra payments of tax fiscal fiscal if you have a child with a disability that receives life subsidy (DLA), payment of personal independence (PIP) or that it is registered. Be sure to tell your tax office as soon as you can if you can if you receive DLA or PIP at any rate for your child, or if you have an existing environment that is increased to the highest rate of the DLA component CARE or PIP Daily Life Component Rate. If you expect more than one month before you contain them about it, you will probably lose these extra backdated taxed tax payments. During the current pandemic, special rules allow critical workers, rather than a month, instead of notifying changes of circumstances - including the DLA or PIP for a child. Eligibility for the fiscal fiscal criterion depends partly on income, but also in the number of hours you work. If you have children, it qualifies if your income is low enough and; you are a lonely father and work at least 16 hours a week. It's part of a couple in which a partner works at least 16 hours a week And you work in less 24 hours a week between you. However, a couple with children only need to work 16 hours a week between them if: a partner works at least 16 hours a week and the other partner is entitled to the caregiver's subservation. A partner is disabled or more than 60 years and works at least 16 hours a week. If you do not have children, you qualify if your income is low enough and you work 30 hours a week (16 hours if it is disabled or above 60). The work tax criterion may include help for certain registered costs of children. You could reach £ 122.50 per week for a child and £ 210 per week for two or more children, although the value you receive in relation to your child costs will vary depending on your income. Credit costs can only be included for: single parents who are working at least 16 hours a week.Cooks that both work 16 hours.Coures where a partner works 16 hours and the other is entitled to the subservation of the caregiver or disabled or in the hospital / prison. How many charges will I receive? The amount of tax criteria you usually receive is based on your annual tax income and your family size. Whether It has a partner, your joint income is taken into account. On the contrary of most other benefits tested, there is no limit on how much capital or savings you can have. Who pays criticized taxes? Both fiscal credits are paid by HM revenue. To talk to them about your tax calls 0345 300 300 3900. Sometimes people are credited excess tax, for example, if there is Changing in your circumstances or tax criterion office Make a mistake - see the government website for more information. If you do not agree that you were paying in excess of tax criteria or thinks that the amount of excessive payment is wrong, you can ask for a compulsory reconsideration and then appeal that decision the way normal. See our page about revisions and resources. However, if you accept that you were paid in excess of criterion, and that excessive payment has been calculated correctly, you can not ask for a compulsory reconsideration or appeal the HMRC decision to recover this money. Instead, if you are dissatisfied with a decision to recover an excessive tax credit payment, for example, because you think it was an official mistake, you can contest the decision to recover the TC046 form - You need to do this within three months of decision, although a late dispute can be accepted in exceptional circumstances. Be sure to explain why you think the undue payment was caused by HMRC and any steps you took to get in touch with HMRC. Unfortunately, HMRC will continue to recover exceptional payment while looking at your dispute. However, if your dispute succeeds, any amount has been recovered must be refunded to you. You can also ask HMRC not to recover any or all over payment if this would cause difficulties.
