Prop 65 has become a huge topic and has everyone scrambling to be in compliance. LureCraft has less than 10 employees so we are exempt from having to label products or put warning notes on our website. I can say that our original lines of plastic we produce in house and silicone molds have no chemicals in them that have to be labeled for prop 65. Anyone with questions on any other products we sell, feel free to ask. Jig heads, hooks, blades and swivels could all potentially have lead or other chemicals that are on the prop 65 list. Thank you!
