Not in advance giving them rewards for hard work! They should not have to wait until they reach great things like getting a report on reporting cards and pending test scores. Differentiation SEÇÃO 9. In the sports world, this often comes in the form of medals or trophies. Do not let them do that! Instead, lift the bar with even greater challenges to send a powerful signal that they are always expected to do the best possible. They are much more likely to be enthusiastic about a task they gave. In short, this means that some problems can be solved in more than one way. @ Mathcoachcorner / Twitter Collaborate with teachers and parents if you are a teacher or father, it is always a good idea to collaborate with each other. While it is true that some students understand mathematics concepts faster than others, everyone can learn mathematics with the techniques and right tools. @ Mathcoachcorner / twitter apply mathematics for real world scenarios when you talk to students, it is clear that one of the main problems with mathematics for many of them is that it seems very abstract for them. Algebraic equations SEÇÃO 3. When this is the case, it is vital to look at the topics that students need to know for their And it takes some anticipated planning to ensure that you cover all of them in detail. @ MathematicsProf / twitter plan in advance in advance Most parents, students bring specific items home like home lesson, and they simply need to be prepared to help with what they are given. In fact, some students find mathematics to be difficult and do not like it so much that they do everything they can avoid it. As a result, some may try to run away just by doing the minimum to get a ticket. This will keep you on the right track and help you overcome obstacles quickly. For example, if students are struggling to understand how a fraction with a greater number in the lower can be less than a fraction with a smaller number at the bottom, enter some real life items - How maybe big cookies - and let them explore the differences between split something into 10 pieces versus dividing it into four pieces. Section of trigonometry 4. However, teachers and parents that homeschool follow a curriculum. Teachers should keep parents informed about exactly what they have done in the classroom while parents - who are generally older to help at home on a base plus one over-one - should seek orientation teachers and inform them of any problem areas that are particularly challenging. If you are a father helping your child at home or a teacher in the classroom, facing the process with the right teaching methods can make a huge difference. Work to build confidence from the
