Create and remove numbered lists in Word is easy using the "Number" command on the tape. However, if you prefer to use the keyboard, there is a way to quickly create a numbered list using a keyboard shortcut. We add a keyboard shortcut to the command for creating numbered lists. To do so, right-click any point of the tape and select "Customize the tape" from the pop-up menu. The "Customize the Ribbon and keyboard Shortcuts" screen displays in the "Orde Options" dialog box. In the "Customize Keyboard" dialog box, select "All commands" in the "Categories" list. Scroll down on the "Common" list and select "FormatNumberDefault". Put the cursor in the "Press new shortcut key" edit box and press the shortcut key combination you want to use to create a numbered list. We used "Alt + N" because it is not assigned to anything else in Word. Click "Assegna". The new keyboard shortcut is added to the list "Current keys". If you have made other changes to the "Waiting Options" dialog box (not a sub-dialogue), click "OK" to accept the changes and close the dialog box. Otherwise, click "Delete". To remove the number from a numbered list item, simply press the keyboard shortcut again. The number and indentation of the paragraph are removed. You can also press "Ctrl + Q" to remove the paragraph numbering, but this leaves the indented paragraph. Word can also automatically create a numbered list, however you can turn off thisA numbered list in Word is simply a numbered set of paragraphs. There may be times when you want to have a paragraph or two without numbering in the middle of a numbered list and then start the numbering again after unnumbered paragraphs. Remove numbers from items in a numbered list is easy. To do this, format your numbered list using the "Number" button in the "Paragraph" section of the "Home" tab or using the keyboard shortcut set for creating numbered lists. So, for the moment, the paragraphs that you do not want to be numbered will be numbered, but we will solve it. To remove a number from a paragraph in the numbered list, place the cursor on that article and click the "Number" button in the "Paragraph" section of the "Home" tab. The number is removed from the paragraph and the text most likely moves to the left margin. To line the text with the numbered item above it, click on the "Augment the indent" button in the "Paragraph" section of the "Home" tab until the text is inserted as much as you want. NOTE: You may have to adjust the formatting of the paragraph once you remove a number from a list item. Remember, if you have set a keyboard shortcut to apply the numbering to a paragraph, you can use that keyboard shortcut to turn off the number. You can customize the bullets on lists bets in Word using different symbols and colors. However, what if you want to use your own image as bullets in your list?standard bullets with pictures is easy and we will show you how. NOTE: We used Word 2016 to illustrate this function, but this procedure will also work in Word 2013. Examine the bullet list you want to change the bullets to the pictures. Click the drop-down arrow on the "Bullets" button in the "Paragraph" section of the "Home" tab and select "Define New Bullet" from the drop-down menu. In the "Define New Bullet" dialog box, click "Picture". The "Insert Pictures" dialog box is displayed. You can enter a "From a file" image on your PC or local network, from a "Bing Image Search", or from your "OneDrive" account. For this example, we are going to insert an image from a file on our PC, and then we will click on "From a file". In the "Insert Picture" dialog box, go to the folder on the PC (or local network unit) which contains the image you want to insert. Select the file and click "Insert". The "Preview" shows that the selected image is used on a pointed list. NOTE: Not all images work well as bullets. Simple graphics with a transparent background works best because the image will be reduced to a very small size. Here is a list of 850 words that was developed by Charles K.
