This can be done by visiting the Illinois Comptroller's website and using the eAAFind My Refund feature. Illinois taxpayers can also sign up for refund alerts via text and email through this platform. Whether it's done through the Illinois Department of Revenue or the state's comptroller, a taxpayer looking to these platforms to check on the status of their refund must be ready to provide their: First and last name Social Security number Email address and phone number Estimated Illinois tax refund amount When Can I Expect To Receive My Illinois Tax Refund? Because filings vary, with some proving more complex than others, the Illinois Department of Revenue can't provide a solid time frame regarding when refunds will be sent out to state residents. An effort by the state agency to curb identity theft and fraud has also slowed the refund distribution process down a bit compared to previous years. What Could Delay My Illinois Tax Refund? Aside from additional security measures delaying state tax refund distribution in Illinois, several other factors can prolong the refund wait time. Some of these factors include: Errors made in the return before or during the filing process An excess volume of returns and refunds awaiting processing Signs of fraud or identity theft In Illinois, filing an error-free state tax return and requesting that the refund amount be deposited directly into a checking or savings account is the surest way of receiving the amount quickly. Enhanced security adopted by the Illinois Department of Revenue to detect and prevent fraud may delay the refund distribution process a bit. This year Illinois is taking longer to process returns and refunds to protect taxpayers from identity theft and fraud. However, checking the status of your Illinois tax refund is easy.
