Seriously, confused, and you'll be in a world of trouble on this quiz. A synonym is a word that has the same meaning as another word â as common and ordinary â and antoni are words that have opposite meanings â such as hot and cold. " synonym of being synonymous and in a synonymous state. A synonym word synonym is equivalent. A metonymy is also a synonym because it is used in place of a word â as the word smoke can take the place of a cigarette. Confused? Don't be. We'll get through you. Pure linguists may argue that there is no such thing as a true synonym as no word can have the same meaning as another word - there are small variations representing usage, history and origin. But for the purposes of this quiz, and to make our high school English teachers happy, we will play by the rules and assume that many words are similar enough for us to refer to them as synonyms.
